Sat., May 15, 10:00-6:00

Hale Ho'omana, Makawao

"There is a cry and a call, deep in our hearts and guts that wants to be heard. There is a longing to liberate our voice and soul and thereby rediscover and remember the vastness of who we truly are, a vibrational force of the highest creation."

Karina Schelde, founder, Soul Voice International

Lori Lewis and Isha Doellgast, Certified Soul Voice Practitioners, bring you a jam-packed day of step-by-step processes for using your voice as a healing instrument, whether or not you've worked with sounding/toning before.

You will come away with a new sense of your own connectedness, self healing techniques to integrate into your daily life, the experience of giving and receiving sound healings, and an expanded sound vocabulary with which to reach your core essence
